

Some more examples of learning power at home...

Ruby Power

- ♥ I shared my Lego with my little brother so that he could make a tower too.
- ♥ I helped to set the table ready for dinner.
- ♥ I was kind to my cousin when she came to stay.
- ♥ I made Mummy a card to cheer her up when she was feeling poorly.
- ♥ I was really supportive of my big sister when I went to watch her in the school play.

Emerald Power

- * I made a 'space' picture. It was really tricky to cut out the rocket shape but I didn't give up.
- * The first time that I tried riding my bike without stabilisers, I fell off. I didn't get upset and I wanted to try again. After lots of practice, I can now ride it with 2 wheels!
- * I was really brave when I went to football club for the first time and I tried to join in with all of the games.

Diamond power

- ◆ I carried my book bag and my lunchbox all the way to school today.
- ◆ I couldn't fit all of the toys into my toy box when I was tidying up at bedtime so I tried arranging the toys in a different way to see if they would all go in. They did!
- ◆ I was helping my brother to make a den in the garden. We tried hanging our sheet from the climbing frame but it kept falling down so I got some ribbon and tied it on.

Amethyst power

- * I went to Bristol Zoo on Saturday. I listened carefully while the zoo keeper talked about the lions and afterwards I asked him what the lions like to eat.
- * I worked with a partner during my ballet class to make up a dance for our show.
- * I told Daddy all about my day at school. I was able to tell him what I liked doing and I answered all of his questions!
- * I listened to my teacher during my swimming lesson so that I knew exactly what to do.

Discovering learning gems at home

What are our learning powers?

We want all our children to enjoy being 'sparkly learners' and to have the skills that will make them successful learners throughout their lives. The children are rewarded with 'gems' for showing each of the learning powers. The powers help us to think about and improve our learning.

Ruby Power

- ♥ I am kind.
- ♥ I understand how others feel.
- ♥ I can make others feel good about their learning.

Emerald Power

- * I enjoy my learning.
- * I am happy to have a go with my learning.
- * I bounce back from mistakes and know they help me learn.

Diamond Power

- ◆ I can do things for myself.
- ◆ I have a go at sorting out my own problems.
- ◆ I can ask good questions to help me with my learning.

Amethyst Power

- * I can take turns to speak and listen to others.
- * I can share and explain my ideas with a partner.
- * I can work successfully with a partner or small group.

Learning at home...

We would love for you to tell us about some 'learning gems' that happen at home. These will help us to build up an even better picture of your child as a learner and they will also form a valuable part of each child's Learning Journey file. Your gem stickers can help to record these moments and can be brought back in to school on any day.
